A Miracle of Grace

ON Sunday, December 18th, at St. Basil's Church, a new priest celebrated his first High Mass. Two weeks after his 59th birthday Father William Ernest Cummer, C.S.B., D.D.S., F.A.C.D., said his first High Mass. This was the culmination of an odyssey which is unique in the annals of convert lives.

Born in Hamilton, December 4th, 1879, Father Cummer early joined the Methodist Church. His interest in music led him over many paths on his way to the Church. Successively he was a member and chorister in the Methodist, Baptist, Anglican Low and High Churches. In 1917, at the age of 37, he found his way into the fold. Four years later he attended the ordination of a friend and, in his own words, "I left the church with all former ambitions and plans replaced by the desire to become a priest."

Meanwhile he was becoming the outstanding authority on prosthetic dentistry and dental technology on the continent. For 25 years he was connected with the University of Toronto, member of six Dental Societies and licentiate of the Dominion Dental Council, associate editor of several publications and lecturer to dental groups throughout the continent. In 1931 he left the University of Toronto to found and become the Dean of the new Dental School at the University of Detroit.

On the death of his wife in 1933 Father Cummer resigned his office and entered the Congregation of the Priests of St. Basil. On June 11th, 1938, this searcher for the truth had accomplished his desire—he was a priest. Serious illness postponed the celebration of his first High Mass till December. Then in the presence of his fellow-priests, hundreds of dentists and friends from Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Boston, Chicago and other points, Father Cummer attained the peak of human greatness.

Father Cummer sang his First Mass, assisted by Msgr. McCann as Archpriest, Rev. Dr.

Reverend H. S. Bellisle, C.S.B.

FATHER BELLISLE is dead. To hundreds of old St. Michael's men, to his classmates, to his teammates on championship hockey and football teams, to those who lived with him on the Irish Flat, to those who passed through the High School while he was principal, to the members of the numerous teams he coached, to those whom he taught, to those who came in contact with him while he was superior at St. Michael's, those words will bring a pang. Throughout his life and especially during the last years he was a great inspiration.

Twenty-three years in the Priesthood, twenty-seven years in the Religious life—we can only guess at the harvest of that all too short period. The numerous expressions of regret, the countless anecdotes, the almost tearful joy of those who rejoice in having known him—these are indications of the influence he exerted over the generations of students who passed through the old School.

He died at Assumption College, Sandwich, Ontario, early in the morning of December 28th. Confined to the hospital during the month previous, he was gradually rallying after numerous heart attacks which frequently threatened his life. On Christmas morning he was allowed once more, and for the last time, to ascend the altar steps to offer the Holy Sacrifice on his Master's birthday. Late Wednesday evening another attack came on from which he failed to rally.

He was buried from Assumption Church. A classmate, the Most Reverend R. H. Dignan, Bishop of Sault Ste. Marie, sang the funeral Mass. Another classmate, a companion of novitiate and scholastic days and during the years of his administrative life, Father McCorrell, preached the sermon. He was buried among his former confreres in the Assumption cemetery.

Requiescat in Pace.

Your Annual Fee

Once more this appeal is made to you for funds to carry on the work of the Alumni Association. The number, who are contributing annually to this work is gradually increasing; but we need a larger response before it be possible to develop the value of the Association. There is a vital work to be done. Catholic truth to be spread abroad, the Christian cure of present difficulties to be made known, developments in Catholic thought that you want to know. As old students of a Catholic College that is vitally interested in these questions, that has the truth to disseminate, you have still a part to play.

The yearly contribution was fixed at TWO DOLLARS at the last meeting of the Association. It is not a large amount. You always intend to send it along but forget about it. Before it slips your mind, why not send along your contribution for the year 1939. Take your place alongside the loyal supporters of this work—it is a worthwhile endeavour.

Phelan as deacon and Father Joseph McDonagh as sub-deacon. The Schola of St. Basil's Seminary, to which Father Cummer had belonged, sang. Father John Burke, C.S.P., came from New York to preach for the man whom he had baptized.

It is impossible for a spectator at that wonderful ceremony to express the rapture that must have welled in Father Cummer's heart, but no one left the church that morning unmoved, no one remained unmoved. Father Cummer is now stationed at St. Michael's. To us he is an inspiration in his devotion, in his kindly charity, a teacher of appreciation of our Catholic faith and the priesthood. Ad multos annos.

The College Ball

January 27th, 1939, will be a red-letter day for the students of St. Michael's. After years of waiting, the first formal College Dance is to take place. This is the official undergraduate dance but so many of the Old Boys have longed for this occasion that it is expected there will be a goodly turnout of the Alumni. Already reservations have been made for many groups of Alumni. Hart House will be the scene of the festivities and Mel Hamill's orchestra has been secured to provide the music. The committee is sparing no efforts to make this dance a brilliant addition to the College activities.

Remember the date: Wednesday, January 18th.

What part soever you have taken upon you, play that as well as you can, and make the best of it. And do not therefore disturb and bring out of order the whole matter, because that another, which is merrier and better cometh to your remembrance. So the case standeth in the commonwealth, and so it is in the consultations of kings and princes. If evil opinions and naughty persuasions can not be utterly and quite plucked out of their hearts, if you can not even as you would remedy vices, which use and custom hath confirmed; yet for this cause you must not leave and forsake the commonwealth; you must not forsake the ship in a tempest, because you can not rule and keep down the winds. No, nor you must not labour to drive into their heads new and strange informations, which you know well shall be nothing regarded with them that be of clean contrary minds. But you must with a crafty wile and subtle brain study and endeavour yourself, as much as in you lieth, to handle the matter wittily and handsomely for the purpose, and that which you can not turn to good, so to order it that it be not very bad. For it is not possible for all things to be well, unless all men are good. Which I think will not be yet this good many years.—St. Thomas More.

FATHER BELLISLE'S LAST MESSAGE TO ST. MICHAEL'S MEN

Father Bellisle preached the Students' Retreat in Holy Week, 1938. This is his last message to the students and old boys of St. Michael's as it appeared in the Thurible of 1938:

It was my privilege to live with you during your Annual Retreat. The same virile piety which characterized St. Michael's students in the past is present amongst you in even greater intensity than in former years. There is amongst you a realization of the seriousness of the times in which we live and of the necessity of being prepared by virtue and knowledge to meet its problems in a Christian manner.

Perhaps never before in the history of St. Michael's was a more important task imposed upon her students and graduates. The Church, like Our Blessed Lord Himself, went into retreat in 1870 when Pius IX closed the doors of the Vatican. The last act in the drama begun as the Reformation had to be completed before the world was ready for a new Christian apostolate which must result in the formation of a new Christendom. With the re-opening of the doors of the Vatican in 1929 by Pius XI, the Church began her new apostolate. She has engaged Satan and all who take part with him in a new conflict. She has challenged his right, in the name of her leader who is the Saviour of the world, to make it impossible for men to save their souls within the temporal order. Our Pontiff, Pius XI, has summoned you to labour with him to bring to birth the new Christendom.

The youth in mediaeval times, clothed in steel and armed with shield and sword, were sent by His Holiness to rescue the holy places from the hands of the infidel. He sends you upon an equally perilous mission, armed no longer with material weapons but with armoured souls, disciplined by truth and virtue, to rescue invisible sanctuaries of mind and heart, from the prince of darkness. Your battles are to be fought upon the highways of the mind, using the same weapons which Jesus Christ and His apostles used in the conquest of a pagan world.

Your mission resembles in many respects the mission of the early Church. The truth of the prophecy of Cardinal Newman is now evident: there can be no via media between Catholicism and unbelief. Your mission is, to a great extent, to souls upbaptized and as yet untouched by Christian truth. The first Christians in their conquest used purely Christian means. They opposed humility to pride, mortification to sensual living, and faith to reliance upon unprotected human reason. They realized that God is Sovereign over both the spiritual and temporal orders and has promised to send in answer to prayer grace and seasonable aid. They were prepared to sacrifice citizenship in an earthly kingdom to make more secure citizenship in a kingdom which is Divine. Using these weapons, they carved out for their Master a kingdom. The eagles of Rome found shelter under the Cross of Christ. You, using the same weapons, can hope for equally magnificent results. You are the Knights of the New Christendom.

Like the rich young man in the Gospel, you have great possessions, not material possessions but spiritual treasures of mind and heart more precious than silver and gold. You must be prepared, no matter what be your special task in life, whether it be as priest, doctor, lawyer, writer or financier, to see Jesus Christ in your neighbour and to love and serve him in that spirit. "I was hungry and you gave me to eat; I was thirsty and you gave me to drink; I was sick and in prison and you visited me." Whether your ministry be directly to the soul, as in the case of the priest and teacher, or directly to the body as in the case of the doctor, it must be to Jesus Christ served in His members. So labouring, not only shall you save your own souls but you shall be lending all your energies to the formation of a new temporal order wherein your Master, Jesus Christ, will be allowed to minister fully to men and to lead them in ever increasing numbers out of darkness into His marvellous light.

Rev. H. S. Bellisle, C.S.B.
